

Practice Direction Adjudicators' Book of Authorities

The Discipline and Appeals Committees' Rules of Practice provide for book of authorities. Some cases are cited frequently in Tribunal proceedings. To assist parties and reduce costs, the Discipline and Appeals Committees has developed an Adjudicators' Book of Authorities containing frequently cited cases. A party relying on any case included in the Adjudicators' Book of Authorities need not reproduce that case in its book of authorities. In written and oral argument, parties should refer to the citation and tab number of the case in the Adjudicators' Book of Authorities, and the paragraph number(s) relied upon.

The Adjudicators' Book of Authorities is posted on the RECO website at www.reco.on.ca, under Complaints & Enforcement. It is available to all adjudicators and a hard copy is available in the hearings room. (See attached index)

The Adjudicators' Book of Authorities is meant to facilitate the hearing process by relieving parties of the need to copy or file frequently cited cases. It is not a complete list of relevant cases or a statement of law.

Cases are added to and deleted from the Adjudicators Book of Authorities from time to time. Any questions or comments concerning the Book of Authorities, including recommendations for additions to or deletions from the list, should be directed in writing to the Manager, Discipline and Appeals Hearings at hearings@reco.on.ca. The parties remain responsible for making copies of all other authorities to which they wish to refer. Parties are asked to make all books of authorities double-sided.
